THE OPEN STACK

A Privilege And A Trust

Students of the Fifth District Normal enjoy an unusual privilege in being allowed to use the open stacks in the library, a privilege not accorded to students attending the other state educational institutions. A brief explanation of our system will emphasize the benefits to be derived from it.

The books are shelved in a room open to all. Students are free to pass in and out whenever they desire to do so. They are permitted to take books from the shelves and examine them before taking them to the tables for study. An acquaintance with many books is gained, a knowledge otherwise not acquired unless these books were given in assignments. Much time is saved, for the student may go directly to the shelf and within ten minutes be busy at work. Placards and signs make familiar the classification of the books and their arrangement. The librarians are always willing to give any assistance that is needed.

Another plan, which is the antithesis of this, is generally used in other school libraries. This is the closed stack plan, for the room containing the books is closed to all except those who have special permission. Persons wanting books must first find the classifications and numbers from a card catalog and give them to the librarian who disappears into the stack room to return in due time with the book—or the information "not in". Such a system means a congested condition around the case, a loss of twenty minutes to an hour on the part of the student to whom time is valuable. Inability to get the desired material discourages the timid and exasperates the ambitious. Three months or a year is necessary to learn the best uses of the catalog case. Cross references, author, title and subject cards are very bewildering to a beginner. An extra expense is added by the keeping of a larger library force. This plan has, however, been found necessary in many places as a safe guard against dishonesty.

The open stack, therefore, can be used only when students are true to the trust it imposes: namely, honesty. If we wish to keep this system, we must demonstrate that honesty is not only the best but the only policy.

WAR RELIEF WORK IN GRADES.

Miss Brunner and Miss Miller, supervisors in the Training School, are securing good results with the children in the second, third, fourth and fifth grades in war relief work.

Both boys and girls are very much interested and as a result they have made within the last few weeks seventeen stretcher pillows.

The pillows are made of coarse cotton ticking, 12 by 16 inches, and are stuffed with snippings.

The boys make most of the snippings by cutting narrow strips of cotton cloth into one inch pieces. These are then placed between layers of cotton batting and it all forms a light, soft head-rest. Two white cases go with each pillow.

Saturday the children helped in the packing of their work for shipment to France, where it will be used on the battle field.

Their next work will be the making of articles for hospital use, such as wash cloths, pillow slips and gowns for little folks.

This work gives to the girls practical sewing, but greater than all else, both boys and girls are learning lessons of patriotism, thoughtfulness and sympathy for the brave or unfortunate ones across the seas.

Y. W. C. A. SHIP WAR WORK.

October 24, the Y. W. C. A. sent its first shipment of war relief work. It consisted of the following garments for the French war sufferers:

- 13 kimona night shirts,
- 15 baby slips,
- 6 girls' skirt combinations,
- 15 sleeveless shirts,
- 3 women's skirts
- 10 pairs baby booties,
- 12 children's dresses (2 sizes).

So far this work has been financed by monthly pledges of the members and the friends of the Association. As this fund has not proved adequate, an invitation is hereby extended to all faculty members, students, former students and friends of the school to contribute to this fund. Remnants of gingham and outing flannel will also be gladly received.

The Association desires contributions of outgrown garments which are in good condition. When such articles are sent, they must be clean and whole. On account of the cost of sending, coats will not be sent.

George Mercer, a former student of our school is now in the signal corps of the Headquarters Company, 129th Field Artillery at Fort Sill.

SPEAKERS FOR CONVENTION

President Ira Richardson, also president of Missouri State Teachers' Association, announces the following speakers at the state convention in Kansas City, November 14-16.

Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood.

Principal John J. Mahoney, State Normal School, Lowell, Mass.

James H. Breasted, professor of history, Chicago University.

J. L. McBrien, department of rural education, Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, president N. E. A., and state superintendent public instruction, Denver, Colo.

Osborne McConathy, School of Music, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Uel W. Lampkin, state superintendent public schools, Jefferson City.

Chancellor Frederick A. Hall, Washington University, St. Louis.

President A. Ross Hill, University of Missouri, Columbia.

Difficulty in securing speakers, due to the war conditions, has delayed the announcement of the detailed program.

TO HIGH SCHOOL COACHES.

In this issue the Green and White Courier publishes the results of all high school football games played in the Fifth Normal School District this fall, including the games of Oct. 19. We intend to make this a regular feature if it meets with approval and co-operation.

If your games have been omitted from the list published this week, or if anything else of interest has happened recently in your school, let us know about it. After your next game drop us a card with the score and any remarks you want to make. It will please us and help to advertise your school. We must receive the reports by the Friday before the paper is issued.

Remember, it helps to advertise.

THE PRESIDENT'S NEW SECRETARY ARRIVES.

Miss Katherine Irwin of Shelbina, Mo., began work Monday, October 22, as secretary to President Richardson. She was a pupil in the grades when Mr. Richardson was superintendent of the public schools of Shelbina.

Miss Irwin is a graduate of the Gem City Business College at Quincy, Illinois.

CARDINALS WIN

But Not 150-0.

Although defeated 32-0 in the game with William Jewell last Friday, the Bear Cats are almost as pleased over the result as if they had taken the victory. For William Jewell defeated us last year 102-0; this time the Bear Cats knocked off 70 points from that score; next year—well, we'll see.

When the big red team from Liberty came on the field they were already staggering under the load of points they expected to pile up. That was anticipation. When they left the field at the end of the first half, they had one lone touchdown. That was realization.

The Cardinals had instructions from Coach Dad Bowles to rely upon straight football. They did, and the Bear Cats beat them at their own game. For the entire first quarter the two teams battled back and forth, neither came within striking distance of the other's goal.

The second quarter continued in much the same way and but for a blocked kick which a Jewell man recovered, the score would have remained a tie. As it was, Mayberry failed to kick the goal and the Baptists had a lead of only six points at the end of the half.

During the intermission Dad must have given his charges some of the same brand that George hands to the Bear Cats occasionally. At any rate, the Cardinals got the jump on the Bear Cats and scored a touchdown in quick time. They scored again before the end of the quarter and twice more in the final session. Only two of the goals were kicked.

The Bear Cats played the kind of game that makes the spectators wilt down stiff collars in zero weather. If they play as well against Tarkio next Friday (and Normal teams always play fifty percent above form against Tarkio) our ancient rival will be humbled in football as in basketball.

Brown, Shilt, Richards, Daniels, Miller and Pickens played especially well. Clippard and Mayberry starred for William Jewell.

The line-up:

Jewell—Cook, lc.; Thomas, lt.; Newman, lg.; Clark, c.; Hampton, rg.; Southard, rt.; Walker, re.; Eubank, q.; Mayberry, rrb.; Clippard, lrb.; Wilkerson, fb.

Maryville—H. Sawyers, lc.; Richards, lt.; Nichols, lg.; Brown, c.; Lawton, rg.; Hartley, rt.; Shilt, re.;

MR. MILLER SPEAKS

One way of testing the increased approval of our schools is to note the numerous engagements of faculty members for speeches on public occasions. Professor Harry A. Miller talked to the Parent-Teacher Association of Skidmore October 2, on "The New Education." Saturday, October 6, he spoke on "The Call of Democracy" at the Rockport picnic. There he met three Normal acquaintances: Ellen Grier, Mrs. Slemens, better known here as Mary Fordyce, and Fay Fawcett, who is teaching at Rockport.

Professor Harry A. Miller left October 20 for Helena, where he gave several readings for a public school entertainment. The occasion was particularly pleasant for the speaker since he had assisted in dedicating the new school building.

October 25, Mr. Miller spoke at the Jefferson ward school of Maryville before the Parent-Teachers Association.

SO SAYS TARKIO.

"Maryville reports an increased attendance. The only Normal in the State that has not fallen below last year's enrollment. They also report thirty men out for football, brilliant prospects, high school stars, and a man or so weighing around 190. Which moves us to remark—that's nothing, we have a man who weighs 250. Let's hope friend enemy is strong next year. They will need to be on Nov. 23, next."

THE SPRINGFIELD GAME

On the Springfield trip the Bear Cats played two games, Springfield Normal Friday, October 19, and Drury College Monday, October 22. Financially, adding the Drury game was a good stroke; from the standpoint of winning games, it was disastrous, the game resulting in a 96-0 score in favor of Drury. The game with Springfield was lost 56-0. The Bear Cats fought gamely, but they were outweighed and outplayed.

NOTES OF THE SPRINGFIELD TRIP

Ralph Peters bought a new shirt before he left home and, running short of money tried to sell it to a second hand clothing store. Finally Lawton bought it for thirty cents.

Lawton gave Shilt a crock hair cut at the hotel to cut down expenses.

S. H. B. McMahon bought a pair of the Boston make at a Springfield store. When he got home he found that they were both right handed.

Hartley and Daniels thought very much of the Bernards. They had to walk to town Saturday night. They missed the owl.

Big Bill answered the telephone in his sleep. He almost missed his breakfast. His favorite expression was "When do we eat?"

"Simon Legree" (Mr. Hanson) and the "bloodhound" (Mr. Palfreyman) kept strict watch on the bunch and recorded the time that each man got to bed. They also enjoyed the show.

"Uncle Tom" and "Little Eva" enjoyed the box seats. They do not expect to enjoy the home shows until they have little green curtains and brass rails to separate them from the common people.

All who were not broke were badly bent when they reached Maryville. Mac had 22c.

Seedy Sawyers was surprised to find that they rode bicycles on wheels in Springfield.

Doc and Easy discovered that the girl who played left end on the Jefferson team had only one eye. Mr. Hanson asked them how they discovered this.

Evans and Brown did Springfield in a big blue Ford last Saturday. They say that the girls that attend S. S. N. S. are mighty keen. We promised to keep this from G. P. so don't tell her.

Tubby Wells said that his little brain turned a flip-flop in the Drury game.

All Nick could do between times was to eat and sleep. He usually ate two meals in one.

Torchy had two girls to take home after the reception Friday night.

The Springfield girls wondered why George would not talk to them.

They finally found out that he was true to the girl he left behind him.

"Oh, dear—Oh, well—Oh, my—Please, shut that door."

"Do you play lift tickle or right-teckle? I play tickle-tackle."

Now, spit, Clyde!

LITERARY SOCIETY NOTES

Eurekan Notes.

Football was the subject of the program given by the Eurekan Literary Society on October 11th.

Miss Gladys Rinehart read a letter from a Freshie football rooter.

Mr. Verne Pickens gave an instructive talk on the Science of Football, and used the blackboard to illustrate the points of the game.

Miss Belle Mulholland read an original story entitled A Football Rip.

Miss Orpha Farris, Mary Elizabeth Brown, Ruth Foster and Esther Dietz sang the following, which was adopted as the Eurekan song:

The Eurekan Society is the best you can find,

U. U. Re—ke—an!

They never say fail and they're never behind,

U. U. Re—ke—an!

Chorus.

The Eurekan Society is the best you can find,

They never say fail and they're never behind,

U—Re—ke—an! U—Re—ke—an!

The Eurekans are first on the athletic field,

U. U. Re—ke—an!

In all other contests they never will yield,

U. U. Re—ke—an!

The program of October 18, dealt with the Wonders of the World and was presented by the following: Literary Wonders—Miss Amelia Madera.

Duet—Miss Mary Elizabeth Brown and Miss Mahala Smith.

Vocabulary Wonders—Miss Mabel Rogers.

Art Wonders—Miss Ruth Foster. Eurekan Wonders—Miss Opal Key. News Items.

Miss Loraine Greiner, a former president of the Eurekans, was a guest in Maryville Saturday Oct. 13.

Witches came among the Eurekans Thursday afternoon and cast a "spell" over the large audience that awaited their coming. The usual fire, sticks, kettles, black cats, Jack-o-lanterns and candles helped to create the necessary atmosphere in which the witches could work. A wierd story was first told, then the witches chanted while their kettle "bubbled," after which the fortunes of all present were forecasted.

Apples and animal crackers were served.

Excelsior Notes.

The program of October 11 consisted of:

Immediately following the program the Philomatheans enjoyed a picnic which was given in honor of the new members. On account of unfavorable weather the picnic was held indoors. After a delightful time spent in playing games and telling stories in the gymnasium, they went to the ladies parlor where music and a luncheon awaited them.

Miss Winn and Mr. Swinehart were guests of the society.

PHILO HOMECOMING.

The Annual Philo Homecoming was observed at the regular meeting of the society on Thursday, October 25. Letters were received from those who have been our most enthusiastic workers. These letters reviewed the past history of the society, and urged the members to keep to their established ideals.

Our members who sent letters are located in various parts of the United States this year. Miss Della Andrews is teaching English and mathematics at Huntsville, Missouri. Miss Francyl Rickenbrode is attending Baker University at Baldwin City, Kansas. Henry A. Miller is principal of the high school at Linden, Missouri. Miss Nellie J. Halasey is teaching a rural school near Maryville. Miss Cleo Lesan teaches English and history in the high school at Bigelow, Missouri. Miss Lesan is also directing the literary work there. Miss Ruth Rooker is teaching in the sixth grade at Brookfield, Missouri. Joseph M. Lukens is instructor in the industrial arts department in the high school at Liberty, Missouri. Vern M. Cornelius is in the officers training camp at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, this year. Mr. Cornelius gave a very interesting description of camp life in his letter.

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

BOY SCOUT LEADER SPEAKS.

"The Boy Scout movement is authorized by an act of Congress, and the Boy Scouts is the only organization permitted to wear a uniform similar to that of the United States army," said Mr. Crook in assembly, October 19. Mr Crook, the leader of the Boy Scouts in Maryville and a member of the Democrat-Forum staff, explained to Normal students the obligations, work and aims of this organization. Patriotism, first aid to the injured, and kindness were especially emphasized. The Boy Scouts are now actively engaged in the sale of Liberty Bonds. Each Scout who sells ten Liberty Bonds will receive from the United States Government a war service emblem.

At present there are thirty Boy Scouts in Maryville, but a cordial invitation was extended by the speaker to the younger boys in town to join them in their work.

Every boy in school should make himself acquainted with this nation wide boy movement, and, with Mr. Crook's help, start an organization in his home community.

SHAKESPEARE'S THEATRE

DESCRIBED.

Tuesday, October 22, in Assembly Miss Beatrix Winn, of the English department, gave an interesting and very instructive description of the Globe, a public theater of Shakespeare's time. Miss Winn is especially qualified to give such a talk, for when a student in Columbia University, New York, she studied under A. H. Thorndike, the world's greatest authority on the English Drama.

Miss Winn discussed the following features: the various places where the audience sat or stood, the stage, the scenery, the properties, special features of the stage, various kinds of scenes, length of plays, price of admission and mode of announcing a performance.

Frequent use by Miss Winn of a large diagram of the floor plan of the Globe enabled the students to follow her closely. This diagram was made by Miss DeLuce, head of the art department.

In closing she explained that many things connected with this theater, as the costumes, actors, music and musicians are very interesting but could not be touched upon in an hour's time.

During this same assembly, Miss Ruth Hankins, a representative of the Maryville High School, spoke in behalf of the High School paper, soliciting the patronage of their alumni. An invitation was also extended the Normal students to attend the old fashioned county fair to be held in the High School building, November 3.

President Richardson announced that school would be in session part of the time during the Northwest District Teachers' Association. Thursday and Friday afternoon, the students will be dismissed to attend this meeting, which will be held in the Normal building.

sponse to the appeal for membership printed in the first issue of The Green and White Courier. Miss Knappenberger teaches domestic science in the Frances Shimer School in Mt. Carroll, Illinois. This is a junior college for girls and is affiliated with the University of Chicago.

Miss Tessie Degan, a teacher in the commercial department, and Miss Pearl Wilkerson, 1915, of the Demonstration School went to Rosendale Saturday, October 13, to visit at the home of Miss Wilkerson until Sunday evening.

Harry Mutz, 1908, left Saturday, October 20, for Camp Funston to visit his brother John, who is in military training at that place.

Miss Mae Corwin, 1915, returned October 22, from a ten weeks' visit in Colorado. A part of her time was spent with Mrs. Cecile Benight Hopper, a former student of the Normal, who is living in Fort Collins.

Howard Leech, 1916, a former basket ball star, visited friends here October 24. Mr. Leech is now teaching manual training and athletics in Shenandoah, Iowa.

Helen Kemp, 1915, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, October 18, at the St. Francis Hospital, is improving, though it is thought she will not be able to resume her school work before the first of December. Miss Kemp has been teaching in the Franklin School of Maryville.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

October 17, the Y. W. C. A. held its weekly meeting. Ruth Miller read as a Bible lesson, Psalm 101. The discussion, "The Purpose and Aim of the Y. W. C. A.," was led by Bernice Rutledge, chairman of the devotional committee. The immediate aim was found to be the advancing of the physical, social, mental and spiritual welfare of young women; the ultimate aim, the development of Christian leaders.

Patriotic service was the keynote of the Y. W. C. A. meeting October 24. After a piano duet by Misses Foster and Dietz, the following program was given with Mabel Rogers as leader:

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

"Does the fellow who bets on the game add anything to the support of the team?" This question was answered in the negative by the members of the Y. M. C. A. after a spirited discussion in the regular weekly meeting held Wednesday, October 24. Aside from moral considerations, Mr. Palfreyman declared that betting on the game is detrimental, rather than beneficial, to the playing of the game.

A committee was appointed by the president to arrange programs and provide more live topics for discussion.

ANNUAL HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

October 26, the Christian Associations entertained the students and faculty with their annual Halloween party. The guests were first taken on a trip thru Hades where they met ghosts, witches and skeletons, besides many spooky objects such as dead men's hands. After this journey, all assembled in the library which was appropriately decorated with black cats and witches. Here three fortune tellers were kept busy and the usual Halloween stunts were played. The Associations feeling their responsibility as leaders in all matters of student welfare decided that elaborate refreshments were out of keeping with the present need for conservation, they therefore served apples only.

MISS SILLERS JUDGES EXHIBITS.

Miss Sillers, assistant to Miss Anthony, went to Glendale school Saturday, October 20, to give a talk on food conservation and to judge domestic science exhibits. Miss Anthony has been receiving more calls for this work than she is able to meet.

Nellie Miller of the freshman class went home Friday afternoon to see her two brothers, who were home on leave of absence from Camp Funston.

Mary Elizabeth Brown, another freshman, went to her home at Jamesport to meet her brother who is home on leave. Mr. Brown has been in the Naval Training School four years.

Miss Minnie Donaldson, who has been attending school here this quarter, was married Friday night, October 19, at Moberly to Mr. Tom Maffitt, a student of the Kirksville school of osteopathy.

OFFICIATE AT GAME.

C. H. Belting and H. P. Swinehart officiated October 20, in a football game between Pattonsburg and Gallatin High Schools. The score, 55-0 in favor of Gallatin, did not prevent the game from being spirited and clean.

MR. BELTING SPEAKS AT GLENDALE.

Professor Belting, of the agriculture department, went to Glendale school, northwest of Pickering, Saturday, October 20, to judge agricultural exhibits and to make a talk at the harvest festival held there.

Saturday, October 27, he judged the agricultural exhibits at Pickering High School.

MR. BELTING ONLY JUDGE AT COUNTY CONTESTS.

At the Nodaway County Agriculture and Domestic Science Contests to be held here, November 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Mr. Belting will be the only judge of the agricultural exhibits. Heretofore he has been assisted by someone from the University of Missouri.

ASSIST IN RURAL SCHOOL SURVEY.

Professor Osborn's classes in psychology are to assist the State in making a survey of Missouri rural schools. These classes will have the papers of at least one subject, from ten per cent of the schools in the State to grade and find the medians. The placing of this responsibility upon Normal Number Five is a very high compliment to the school and its instructors.

AN ORCESTRA FORMED.

On Tuesday, October 16, fourteen students, who were interested in music, met and organized an orchestra under the direction of Miss Zenor. They will meet for practice each Tuesday at 2:20 o'clock.

Miss Carrie Hopkins, who has been absent four weeks because of a sprained ankle, has returned to her work.
